AWARD WINNING HOMES IN HERTFORDSHIRE

If you are thinking of improving or extending your home rather than moving this year...

Award winning development

Frithsden Construction established early in 2006, evolving from the frustrating occurrences experienced by owners Anthony and Julie Hayes. Over a period of ten years the local couple purchased various properties needing refurbishment or extending, but often experienced problems with 'cowboy builders' letting them down, failing to complete the work to schedule etc,etc.

After several years of learning the hard way, Anthony a business entrepreneur, and Julie an interior designer saw the need to create "Frithsden Construction Ltd". With a strong team behind them, consisting of experienced and creative architects, a good working relationship with local planners, a knowledgeable contracts manager and all the necessary trades/craftsmen needed. They have gone on to build several outstanding new homes in Hertfordshire. Even managing to win the much coveted "Federation of Master Builders" award for the Southern counties area, in just their second year of building! There seems to be no stopping this enterprising and driven company, with a very strong ethos on creative designs, high standards of finish, and a complete understanding of their clients needs in order to achieve their dream home.

Therefore, if you are thinking of improving or extending your home rather than moving this year, then why not consider using the complete services of Award winning "Frithsden Construction". Identifying the need to expand into the private sector, the company now offer a full Project Management Service from the conception of your dream to the reality of completion. Catering for the private client who may be unsure of moving at such unpredictable times, but has a need and desire to improve their home through extending or refurbishment.

The company can even support you with knowledge and expertise on the internal aspects of your home, helping source competitive kitchen and bathroom ranges, through to window treatments and paint colours!

With the current financial uncertainties, the company also offers a "Stage Payment Plan" system, allowing the client to pay at various agreed stages of the project, as the work is completed. Ensuring that the client has financial protection and value for money at all times. Frithsden Construction Ltd is a registered NHBC home builder and contractor and they strive to exceed the high standards set by the industry. The company is also the recommended service provider for leading, local estate agents, Aitchisons.

If you would like to discuss any aspect of your home, then feel free to call Anthony or Julie on 01442 866221 or email them on info@fclimited.com
